Gov. Faubus Doesn't Fear Democrat Foes

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus looked over his shoulder at primary opponents Monday night and dealt with the political specter of Winthrop Rockefeller.

The governor left little doubt for a 30-minute television speech, the first of the campaign, that he regards Republican Rockefeller as his main opponent in the three men he will face in next Tuesday's primary. Faubus did not mention his primary foes—Odell Dorsey, Joe Hubbard and R. D. Burrow—by name or implication.

But he was clearly talking about Rockefeller when he dismissed late in the speech the forces that oppose him. He was asked later to name the person he was talking about, but he declined to do so. "If the fox fits, wear it," Faubus said and hurried out of the studio.

The speech, telecast on seven stations and broadcast on 24, ticked some of the Faubus fire past campaigns. He read from a text and he departed on the prepared remarks infrequently. What charges he made were minor.

He closed with a plea for support and votes in both the primary next Tuesday and the general election Nov. 3. Rockefeller is the Republican candidate in the general election.

Faubus was plainly talking about Rockefeller when he said: "Let no one be distracted by unusual handshaking tours, in which issues are not discussed, or by glittering promises without the means with which to fulfill them."

"The opposition knows what it seeks. It is girded and prepared for all-out battle. By the use of unlimited campaign funds, it is now organizing in every corner of the state."

Rockefeller had not started campaigning formally, but he had opened a headquarters, his supporters are forming a statewide organization and he had been conducting handshaking tours.

Before he got to Rockefeller, Faubus said the core of his opposition comes from those who want to force their ideas on others.

Here, his voice rose slightly. "The people who wish to adopt these methods of force also seek to destroy politically those who stand in their way," he said. "I stand in the way of those who seek to use such methods. I cannot be controlled and they know it. Therefore, they have determined that I must be de-

City Board Delays TV Antenna Deal

Hope's City Directors last night delayed action again on granting a franchise for construction of a community television antenna.

The group accepted a bid from Hope Auto Company for two new autos for the Police Department. The bid, the only one received, was $1,452 each.

An ordinance closing an alley between Walnut and Dewey streets was adopted.

The group also gave its approval of a replat of land lying between Hempstead Memorial and Highway 29, and west of Main Street. The replat was recommended by the City Planning Commission.

Board authorized Municipal Airport to purchase equipment for a two way Unicom system.

Approval was given for paving two blocks on South Laurel Street. Residents of the area furnished materials and the city furnished machinery and labor.

Commission for a tent to be erected for a revival on the corner house block was granted by the Rev. J. M. McRoy. Dallas provided the proper materials. The Rev. McRoy was not present at the meeting.

Doctor and Wife Now in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The honeymoon charm of a big city, where the nationally known can mix unnoticed with the crowds, has brought Dr. Samuel Sheppard and his bride to New York City.

The 40-year-old convicted wife-murderer and the German-born divorcee he met and wooed in a transatlantic correspondence from prison, flew in from Chicago Monday and checked into a Fifth Avenue hotel. They were married Saturday.

Soon after their arrival, the Sheppards faced a battery of newsmen and photographers and spoke of the 1954 bludgeoning slaying of Sheppard's first wife—Marilyn.

The length of their holiday was uncertain, however. There hung a threat of his return to an Ohio penitentiary where he served almost nine years of a life term before his release last week on order of a federal judge who ruled that he had not been given a fair trial.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in Ohio Wednesday will hear a state request for cancellation of Dr. Sheppard's $10,000 bond and his return to prison.

Founders of the Two Party Committee said the group is non-partisan.

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—Fort Smith, Springdale and Malvern won first round games Monday night in the state Babe Ruth League baseball tournament.

Fort Smith beat Crossett 3-2. Springdale beat Hot Springs 11-6 and Malvern beat Pine Bluff 8-1. Tonight, Crossett meets Hot Springs, Fort Smith plays Springdale and Corning meets Malvern.

Corning got a first round bye in the double elimination tournament.

An Actor Has to Be Gambler - This One Refused Security for Life for Stage Musical

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Life is a battle," said Robert Horton, "and if you don't fight it a little bit every day, you fall behind."

"And that means the next day you have to multiply your effort."

Horton, starring in a Broadway musical, is one of the most serious young actors in show business.

The big, raw-boned, red-haired performer is a planner, a dreamer and a gambler. He also likes to have a lot of strings to his bow. Right now he is readying a night club act, expects to follow it with another musical next year. Then, if things go according to plan, he'd like to return to television.

"I have found that if I planned a goal and worked toward it, the plan usually worked out," said Horton, who started acting as an undergraduate at the University of Miami.

"The only time it didn't was when I was in motion pictures. After making several films I was dropped by my studio. For a year I couldn't get anything. I

Treasury Audit Now in Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Accountants from the Two Party Committee told State Treasurer Nancy Hall Monday that they contemplated no audit of her office, Mrs. Hall said.

She said the meeting with the accountants from the group studying state operations was pleasant.

Legislative auditors check the treasurer's balances every three months and an annual audit is made of the treasurer's investments and operations. Mrs. Hall said the audits were on file with the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, asked by the accountants if he had some place they could work until the project is finished, told them space is at a premium at the Capitol and had been long before he took office.

Bryant noted that official state agencies have been trying to find room in the Capitol for several years.

Mrs. Hall said that while she was assured no private audit is planned, she suspected the group wanted to know "how much state money is in each one of the banks."

Founders of the Two Party Committee said the group is non-partisan.

Party Labels Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said Monday he was convinced that this year more people will ignore party labels to vote for the individual, and not the party. He said new political parties may emerge out of this fall's elections.

The nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater would "give an awful lot of people throughout the nation and especially the South, a place to go," Bennett said.

couldn't even get arrested. "That was a big shock to me. I got hold of myself and started planning again. I decided I wanted to be able to perform in as many fields of show business as possible."

Until five years ago Horton had never sung professionally. A brief singing role in summer stock led him, with the encouragement of his wife, to take voice lessons.

His moment of doubt came when producers offered him another long-term contract in a television series. The money was enough to guarantee him financial security for life. But he turned it down.

"I would have had it made—but I don't want to have it made," he said. "That's disastrous. I just want to go on making it."

He is looking forward as eagerly as a beginner to his first night club tour.

"I'm still as enthusiastic about this business as I was when I was a sophomore in college," he remarked. "It's nice to earn your living in the way you want to."

Told to Act Quickly on Integration

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of the U.S. Education Department told Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma educators today that the new civil rights bill is a mandate for the department to move aggressively against discrimination in education.

The meeting was one of a series the Education Department is holding to acquaint college and school officials with the new law, particularly with provisions for withholding federal funds from institutions and districts practicing discrimination.

James Quigley, assistant secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, said his team is seeking ideas from educators on implementation of the law.

"We don't want to take money away from anyone," Quigley said. "But the law is a mandate from Congress that no federal money may be used in any program or activity in which discrimination is practiced."

The first meeting was held Monday in Houston, Tex., for college presidents, school superintendents, school board members and officials of state education departments.

The conferences are broken into two divisions — one for universities and colleges and another for elementary and secondary schools. More than 150 persons signed up in the elementary-secondary section today and there were about 40 in the meeting for institutions of higher learning.

Quigley said his department probably will go to school boards and ask them if they feel they are complying with Title 6 of the civil rights law, which prohibits discrimination in education.

"We expect them to answer honestly if they are not complying," he said. "Then we will ask them what they intend to do to bring themselves in compliance."

Quigley said it was doubtful the Education Department would move against any school district operating under a court-approved desegregation plan.

"We wouldn't want to second-guess the courts," he said. But he added that the department will not wait for complaints of discrimination before cutting off federal funds.

But, he added: "We won't cut off funds without a warning. Cutting off funds will be a last resort."

Quigley's staff distributed information which shows these federal benefits for education in the various states:

Arkansas: $4,367,611 for defense educational activities this year and $4,960,819 next year; National Science Foundation grants for higher education, $792,000 this year.

Louisiana: $4,367,611 for defense educational activities this year and $4,967,819 next year; $2,649,000 for NSF grants this year.

Oklahoma: $15,224,152 for all federal education programs this year and $23,151,242 next year.

Congress to Up Military, and Own Pay

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—A $207 million yearly pay raise for more than 2.6 million military personnel was headed today for speedy enactment, perhaps in time to get into August paychecks.

The election-year bonanza whizzed through the Senate Monday by voice vote a little more than one week after it was formally approved without public hearings by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

If it gets through Congress and is signed by the President before the end of this month, the raises would become effective Aug. 1.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee called for speedy action. He steered the bill to a subcommittee headed by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., who said House hearings would be brief.

Asked if he could get the measure to the President before the end of the month, Rivers said "we could very well do that."

The bill's effective date is the first day of the calendar month following enactment.

Little opposition was expected in the House, which last month voted $448 million in pay raises for most civilian government employees. The Senate has compromise.

The military paybill would provide a 2.5 per cent increase in basic pay for all officers and enlisted men with more than two years of service.

Even larger increases—8.5 per cent of basic pay—would go to young commissioned and warrant officers with less than two years of service. In this category are about 44,601 officers, mainly lieutenants and captains. The basic pay of this

Murphy Still Asks Answer to Questions

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Dean Murphy of Hope, who is opposing Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., in the 4th Congressional District race, renewed his question Monday night of Harris' financial connection with a now defunct El Dorado television station.

Murphy appeared on a paid political telecast on KTVB, Channel 10, here.

Murphy and Bill Smith, a Lake Village farmer, questioned how much Harris had paid for his interest in television station KRBB which was formerly assigned to Channel 10; how much he sold the interest for and why it was sold on the eve of a Congressional investigation.

Murphy quoted from a newspaper clipping which he said told that Harris paid $5,000 for one-fourth interest in KRBB.

Sunday an advertisement in several 4th District newspapers said Harris bought 50 shares of the 1,500 authorized shares.

The original owners of KRBB, Dr. Joe Rushton and W.M. Bigley, of Magnolia, signed the advertisement. It said Harris asked that he be allowed to return his shares to the firm, Southwest Arkansas TV, Inc., on the same basis at which he purchased them.

Harris made the request because he was appointed head of a committee investigating television quiz scandals and felt a conflict of interest would be involved if he did not return the share, the advertisement said.

It said Harris never got any money in dividends, profits or remuneration of any kind.

Murphy said Sunday night the advertisement was an attempt to "whitewash" Harris' involvement.

"At the very least, and even on the surface, Oren Harris is guilty of a conflict of interests and of being part-owner of a television station while chairman of the Commerce Committee, which regulates the broadcast industry," Murphy said.

In the telecast, Murphy also attacked Harris' voting record and said Harris voted for passage of a bill in 1961 to increase the size of the House Rules Committee.

The bill passed and Murphy contended that this was a significant factor in the passage of the civil rights bill.

Johnson Orders Full Probe Into Negro Rioting in New York

LBJ, Barry Want Rights Issue Quiet

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater is considering a call to President Johnson—the man he hopes to oust from the White House—for a campaign pact aimed at keeping civil rights tensions "a completely quiet question."

The Republican presidential nominee said he doesn't want the campaign ahead to inflame "this tension that exists," and added one way of easing it would be stricter enforcement of laws guaranteeing the right to vote.

At the White House, press secretary George Reedy said Johnson "would not do anything to incite or inflame tensions" during the presidential campaign.

He said Johnson would give serious consideration to a meeting with Goldwater if the Republican nominee formally proposes one.

Goldwater said he would "ponder" making the formal call.

The Arizona senator talked about civil rights at a surprise news conference in Chicago Monday as he headed for a Washington homecoming soured by the jeers of self-styled American Nazis.

Their chants of "We Want Rockwell" — George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the American Nazi party — interrupted Goldwater's appearance on the rostrum at an outdoor rally at Washington National Airport.

One of the group said they were protesting what he called Goldwater's "liberal record."

The senator's parting shot: "They can have Rockwell or anybody else they want. I'll take my chances with the majority of Americans who are Americans."

At a news conference in a Chicago airport lounge, Goldwater said he wants to keep the explosive side of the civil rights question out of the presidential campaign.

"I don't want to see any words of mine or anyone connected with me touch anything off," he said. "I'm not going to inject this issue and I don't think he (Johnson) is."

"Let's give this law a chance to work," Goldwater said of the new civil rights measure he opposed in the Senate.

A reporter asked Goldwater about the possibility of an agreement between the Republican and Democratic contenders for the presidency to avert campaign measures that would increase tension.

"I think that's a very good idea," he said.

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson ordered today a full FBI investigation of race rioting in Harlem, declaring that "violence and lawlessness cannot, must not and will not be tolerated."

Johnson said in a statement that he had informed acting New York Mayor Paul Scervano that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is "conducting a complete investigation of the possibility of violation of federal laws in connection with the recent disturbances."

At the same time, Johnson said he expressed to Scervano "my willingness to cooperate in every way possible to help him in this time of agony."

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, read for newsmen a statement in which Johnson said:

"It must be made clear once and for all that violence and lawlessness cannot, must not and will not be tolerated."

stroyed." Except that he did not use the words, "hard-core integrationists," this section of his speech had the tone of his 1958 and 1960 campaign oratory.

Faubus said his opponents could come up with "little or no criticism of (his) successful program of progress, and that there could be little disagreement with the program he has offered for the future."

Then he assailed those who "impatiently try to impose their viewpoint on all who disagree by use of force, disorderly and violent demonstrations in the streets, public facilities and places of business."

Faubus promised that as long as he is governor the authority of the office will not be used to protect the disorderly nor to assist criminals to avoid apprehension and punishment.

The first half of his speech was devoted to a review of his administrations and, except that the figures were changed, he was replaying his campaign talks of 1962.

Then he laid down a 17-point platform. Most of the points called for continuation and expansion of existing programs in line with his campaign slogan: "Keep Progress Alive in '65."

He renewed his promise to push for an aggressive rural road construction program and to launch a statewide beautification project.

"There should be one or more hard-surfaced roads into each settlement, town or village; to each school center; and to each recreational area, including Game and Fish (Commission) lakes, state parks and the large federally controlled lakes," he said.

He promised increased aid for schools. This has been a biennial promise and he has generally delivered.

He said he would build more trade schools, continue increasing welfare benefits, complete the State Hospital construction program and building programs at the University of Arkansas, state colleges and other institutions, continue the industrialization program, expand the state parks and maintain fiscal stability in the state government.

He said he would study needs of municipalities and that an agreement already had been reached with officials of the Arkansas Municipal League on proposals to provide additional funds for towns and cities. He did no elaborate.

Faubus has only one other television appearance scheduled—a 30-minute speech on election eve next Monday. His campaign schedule is tight this week. His campaign staff has promoted no rallies. He is simply attending meetings to which he is invited.

rector of the Congress of Racial Equality, said his office had been in touch by telephone with President Johnson's aides. He said "nothing conclusive" came of the talks.

CORE set up a makeshift first aid station at its office and kept track of outbreaks of violence by walkie-talkie radio.

Acting Mayor Paul Screvane said a grand jury would consider today the case of the white detective lieutenant who fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy. Demonstrations after the slaying touched off the first of the riots, in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

The detective said he shot the boy in self-defense.

Screvane said that more Negro policemen would be sent into Harlem. The police department says it has no racial breakdown of its members and assigns men without regard to race.

Police fired warning shots in the air Monday night to disperse several crowds when they appeared to get unruly.

The largest demonstration was a relatively peaceful march by about 1,000 persons across several blocks along 125th Street. At Second Avenue police fired into the air and broke it up.

Later, a crowd of about 25 formed in front of the CORE office. They cheered when Farmer said more Negro policemen would be sent to Harlem.

But when he urged them to go home, they shouted, "No, no. When they (white police) go home, we go home."

They marched in circles in the street, chanting "We want justice," and then moved to a residential area. When shouts of "Get some guns" started, police moved in, fired shots in the air and the crowd dispersed.

A melee erupted at a bar early today when two patrolmen chased two men who had thrown rocks into a supermarket. The bar door was locked and the patrolmen broke it down. Police reinforcements arrived.

Five persons, including two patrolmen were injured, in the battle. A mirror, bottles, light fixtures and bar stools were smashed. One Negro was arrested.

At about the same time, disorders broke out in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

They started, police said, with a demonstration by about 100 members of CORE, who appeared calm and displayed no violence.

A crowd formed and after the demonstrators left some 300 to 400 persons surged through the streets. Bottles were thrown and a store window was smashed.

idea and that's gone through my mind," Goldwater said. "I would welcome a chance to sit down with the President and discuss this particular issue that might come up."

The senator criticized the way civil rights laws are being enforced now.

"We have laws on the books which if adequately enforced, a solution to the civil rights problem would be forthcoming," he said. "The right to vote is guaranteed. The attorney general has not enforced that law, so he has acted in moderation."

"So they have their rights," Goldwater added. "What they need is better enforcement of the law."

King Going to Mississippi Trouble Spots

By ED MCCUSKER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King comes to this racially troubled state today to aid the newly formed Mississippi Freedom Democratic party in its drive to unseat the all-white regular Democratic delegation to next month's national convention.

Civil rights leaders said Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership conference, would spend at least five days in the state, speaking at mass rallies in Jackson, Greenwood, Meridian and Vicksburg.

Another Negro leader, James Farmer, the Texas-born national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, is scheduled to arrive in Mississippi later this week to boost the Freedom Democratic party movement.

Even before the formal announcement organizing the Freedom Democrats Monday the group had received assurances from regular Democratic delegations in New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oregon, California and Colorado of support on the floor of the Democratic National Convention which Negroes haven't been able to N.

Victoria Gary, a Hattiesburg Negro housewife, said the party was formed because Mississippi Negroes haven't been able to vote in sufficient numbers to force a change in the regular Democratic party structure.

Mrs. Gray said a campaign would be launched to get 100,000 Negroes to sign a "freedom registration roll" to dramatize to the national convention the number of Negroes disfranchised in the state.

Mississippi, according to unofficial estimates has about 26,000 registered Negro voters out of 450,000 of voting age.

The regular Democrats hold their state convention here July 28 to name their national delegates and decide on a course in the presidential election.

Unpledged elector forces of former Gov. Ross Barnett are expected to hold the upper hand at the state convention. Barnett had been backing the candidacy of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, who withdrew from the presidential race Sunday.

Police Meet and Robber Works

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A robber got an undetermined amount of cash Monday night in a holdup at the Western Union office—one block from a hotel where some 700 police officers were attending the Ohio convention of the Fraternal Order of Police.

Wayward Buffalo Just Too Much

AUGUSTA, Kan. (AP)—A wayward buffalo proved to be too much for horses Monday and his pursuers had to resort to trucks to capture him.

The buffalo hopped a fence at the home of his owner, Owen McEwen, and led police and volunteers on a five-hour chase.

After gouging a horse, the 1,800-pound buffalo was roped, anchored between two pickup trucks and given two tranquilizer shots. Then he was loaded into a horse trailer for the return to McEwen's farm.

Man Jailed for Sale of Guns

CHICAGO (AP)—U.S. Treasury agents have arrested an ex-convict and charged him with the illegal sale of guns. They said they believed he has sold 1,500 revolvers in Chicago this year.

In custody is Willie E. Ingram, 23, charged with interstate traffic in firearms without having a federal tax stamp.

Federal investigators, who seized Ingram Monday when he tried to accept delivery of a shipment of 22-caliber revolvers, said he had been buying the German-made guns for $9 and peddling them for $18.

Members of Comedy Team Seriously Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Stan Laurel, 73, the surviving member of the all-time great comedy team of Laurel and Hardy, lies ill today in a hospital from a diabetic attack.

He has been there since last Thursday and no one is supposed to know about it. But somehow, 1,000 letters a day have come to the hospital from Laurel and Hardy aficionados.

"Stanley is amazed that people are so concerned," said a close friend. "Every nurse and doctor in the hospital finds some excuse to come in his room, just to talk with him. It's amazing, the love his fans have for this great comedian."

West Valley Baptist Hospital in nearby Encino won't even admit that the English-born comedian is a patient.

"We have no one here by that name," hospital attendants say tersely.

But Laurel himself, via the close friend, leaked the word so that he could publicly thank the thousands who have written him.

In their prime, Laurel and Hardy had a fan club in Europe that numbered more than two million members. His former partner, Oliver Hardy, died in 1957.

reached and his wife refused to talk to newsmen about her husband's whereabouts or the campaign.

Hubbard said last Saturday he was cancelling his engagements for four days.

E. T. Ridgeway, who said he was helping Hubbard in his campaign, said Hubbard had gone into seclusion to plan his runoff campaign.

Hubbard, Odell Dorsey and R. D. Burrow challenge Gov. Orval E. Faubus' bid for nomination to a sixth term in next Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Hubbard's aides announced the news conference for a Little Rock hotel.

group has not been increased since 1952, although officers with longer service have received three raises since then.

Monthly raises for personnel with less than two years of service would range from $18.78 for a warrant officer to $22.04 for a first lieutenant.

Enlisted personnel with less than two years of service would get nothing more; the argument being that they primarily are in a training status and are eligible for built-in raises under existing law.

Increases would range from $2.80 for a private with more than two years of service to $49.30 more for a top general. Rookies now receive $83.20 monthly after four months of service. A general receives $1,970 monthly.

Hubbard Scheduled for Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Joe Hubbard, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, ends a four-day seclusion today with a news conference at 3 p.m.

What Hubbard would say was not known. He could not be reached.

Several protective metal screens were torn from store fronts.

Police said no looting was reported.

In an hour or two police had broken up the crowd.

How do you tell a drunk?

The man was acting strangely. You know what people thought. But the neighborhood pharmacist had a hunch, took a close look, gave the man sugar. Then he called a physician who found the man was in insulin shock. Too much insulin, not liquor. Without prompt treatment, he might have died. This story illustrates the potency of modern drugs. Before using powerful drugs you should see a physician and then follow directions to the letter when taking them. There's a happier moral. Without modern drugs, the diabetic in this story wouldn't have had a life to save.

There is a myth about Summer being the season of leisure when the living is easy. There are more things going on around here than you can shake a stick at. (Wonder where that expression came from?)

Anyway, there are committee meetings, weddings, teas, showers, beauty contests, county fairs, country club dances, to say nothing of everybody and his little dog (plus a few from the neighborhood) having a patio party in the back yard!

Since Summer is a time of activity, women are on "view" literally and this in-between season takes some planning to be ready for all occasions.

We suggest you freshen up with a new Jeanne Durrell transition; they are so smart, especially the full-skirted, cotton dactron in beautiful dark, muted plaid. Sizes 10 to 20, $22.95. The Jack Mann jacket dress of striped imported cotton in brown or blue is the MOST for the least! $17.95. The basic black is as enchanting as the soft summer dusk, lovely for dining and dancing. Several styles to select from.

You will find a wonderful selection, priced just right for the in-between season... and to accessorize those fall fashions, we have Jonne Jewelry, scarves by Vera, Rubin's cape skin gloves in three lengths, millinery with such famous labels as Oleg Cassini, Mr. John Classie, Mr. John Jr., Sue Lee, Doris Original, Parkridge Exclusive, Facon Botique, Finley of New York; and others — Price's from $5.98 to $25.98... the place... Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

"DEAR ABBY"

SHE GOES TO WRONG DOCTOR!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My problem is my wife. She has been going from one doctor to the next for almost 30 years. When he tells her there is nothing wrong with her, she finds another doctor. The doctor and drug bills every month are tremendous. I wouldn't mind if she were really sick, but she isn't. She carries a pocketbook full of pills in case she has some sort of "attack," which she has never had. She is up on all the known diseases, and is always looking for new ones. What is your advice? I'm sick of telling her that she isn't sick.

HER HUSBAND
Dear Husband: People who are preoccupied with diseases and imaginary illnesses are indeed "sick." Tell her present physician about your wife's history. Perhaps HE can convince her that she needs help above her eyebrows.

Dear Abby: To celebrate our fifth wedding anniversary, my husband and I would like to have a big wedding with all the trimmings. I want to send out invitations, have a white gown and veil, and everything, just like it was the first wedding. The reason for this is because we eloped, and realize that we missed something. Has anyone ever done this before?

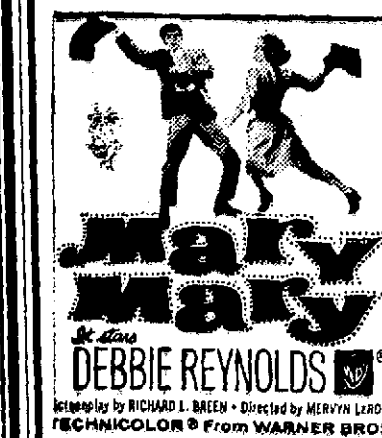

MY DREAM
Dear My: I doubt it. White weddings with all the trimmings are for the first plunge only. Have an anniversary party, but skip the gown and veil.

Dear Abby: I am 14 and I like this boy. I don't want to find another boy because, well, you see, he's special! My problem is that he likes me only as a friend and that's not good enough. He likes a girl who is very sexy, makes average grades and has dirty hair. She is sort of cute, but so am I. I am clean and make good grades and my friends say I have a good personality. Who do you think deserves him, and how can I get him?

ONLY A FRIEND
Dear Only: It doesn't matter who I think "deserves" him. The other girl has him. Your

Bad News on Threat to U.S. Dollar

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. dollar is so healthy right now that international bankers seem confident it will take in stride some bad news being readied in Washington.

The deficit in U.S. international payments has turned sour again after looking unusually good in the first months of this year. When large enough, the deficit is a potential threat to the nation's gold reserves, but already the U.S. Treasury is moving to ward off any new drain.

And the dollar's strong comeback last year has decimated the ranks of foreign doubters who caused runs on gold in former years.

The bad news expected soon is almost a replica of last summer's. Then the deficit spurred sharply. A few feared the gold reserves and the dollar's value in world money markets might suffer drastically. Neither event took place.

For all 1963, bad second quarter and all, the deficit was $3.3 billion. Money sent abroad by government and private sources exceeded incoming money by that amount. The deficit, disturbing though it was, still was smaller than in several previous years.

The figures the government is preparing are for the second quarter of 1964. The jump in the deficit will compare sadly with the first quarter results when it dropped to an annual rate of $724 million.

The deficit usually is smaller in the first part of the year. This year there were some added and transient factors: sale of wheat to the Russians, and a spurt of incoming capital for short-term investments here.

The big jump in the outflow of dollars from April through June is said to many things.

The general increase in U.S. prosperity meant more imports. For several years the United States has had a comfortable surplus of exports over imports. This has helped hold down the deficit caused by the outflow of dollars for other things such as foreign aid, travel, private investment abroad, military bases overseas.

Recently the rise in import volume has cut down this surplus a bit, and hence added to the deficit.

The U.S. Treasury now is reported seeking to renew its arrangement with the International Monetary Fund, which otherwise would expire Wednesday, to borrow up to $500 million in foreign currencies. These can be used if any other nation might seek to present dollars for U.S. gold. They would be given their own currencies instead.

Sprinkling Results in Shooting

CHICAGO (AP) — Two shootings, one allegedly sparked by a water-sprinkling incident, sent scores of police cars to a West Side neighborhood late Sunday night.

But police blamed the incidents on hot weather and said there apparently was no racial motivation involved.

A father and his son were arrested after one shooting. Police said Willie Saunders Sr., 53, a Negro, and his son, Willie Jr., 34, claimed Richard Tarsa, who is white, showered them with water as they passed on a sidewalk.

Police said Tarsa, 28, who was watering a lawn, became involved in an argument with the men. Police quoted Tarsa as saying one man tried to shoot Tarsa's dog, then turned the pistol on Tarsa, hitting him in the groin.

He was not seriously injured. The elder Saunders was charged with aggravated battery and the son with aggravated consin.

Of the metropolitan areas listed separately, Fort Smith had a crime rate of 981.9 per cent 100, 600 population; Little Rock 1,478.5, Memphis (including Crittenden County, Ark.) 1,454.

Waves, Riptides Hit California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Big waves and riptides continued their assault on California beaches for the ninth straight day. At least four persons are believed to have drowned in the assault. In the other shooting, police said Charles Taylor, 22, a Negro, was shot in the shoulder by five members of a youth gang who call themselves the "Cobras."

Police said Taylor was approached by five Negro youths and when he failed to give a proper "password" was shot. The youths escaped and Taylor was hospitalized in fair condition.

Police quickly broke up crowds which gathered at both incidents.

Another Death From Cholera

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — One more death in Malaysia's cholera epidemic was listed today, bringing the toll to 87. A Health Ministry report said the number of confirmed and suspected cases of the disease, plus confirmed carriers, admitted to hospitals has mounted to 963.

Lifeguards rescued 335 swimmers as an estimated one million persons swarmed to the beaches Sunday.

Red danger flags snapped in the breeze and lifeguards shouted warnings at swimmers through loudspeakers.

Weathermen say the big waves might be caused by two tropical storms off the Mexican coast and may continue for at least two more days.

A Short Short Story © 1964 by NEA, Inc.

THE DAYDREAM

By Ruth Engelken

"Dreams, my boy, are what life is made of, but young people today don't dream big like they used to," said Frank Hale. He was sitting cross-legged in front of the open fireplace as the tongues of flame that crackled off the cherry logs danced shadows on high forehead and prominent cheekbones. The 10-year-old boy seated on the braided rug beside him had the same forehead and cheekbones, and his dark eyes mirrored the pensive quality of his father's.

Frank continued: "How many dreams the young Lincoln must have had as he sat like this before the fire in his homespun clothing. With the pinch of poverty in his pocket, he envisioned a paradise of plenty in his soul. And he wasn't afraid of hard work or of beginning at the bottom and drudging upward."

The boy listened with the intensity of youth. Frank was his father, therefore Frank was wise. And furthermore, Frank was reminiscing. All small boys like to hear about what their parents did when they were younger.

"Tell me how you used to dream," the boy asked.

"The same way you dream, son," said Frank. "A dream of the success I'd be when. But no matter how successful you are, you somehow never seem to come up to the dreams of your youth."

Frank put a match to the dead heap of tobacco in the bowl of his old pipe and sucked hard on the stem. The boy watched the smoke that he blew and waited patiently for his next words.

"When I was a boy, we didn't read sophisticated, off-beat literature but stories that challenged and inspired us. Horatio Alger was our favorite author and the characters in his books who rose from rags to riches. They were heroes.

"I well remember 'Dan the Newsboy', a pathetic but noble tale of a poor lad's efforts to help support a widowed mother who eked out an existence by basting vests for tailors. When her greedy employers would try to cheat her out of her rightful pittance, I cried; and when Dan, who started his career as an enterprising newsboy, managed to take her out of her poverty, I was inspired to copy his example."

Frank sucked on the pipe and blew out a smoke ring which he and the boy watched widen and disappear. He chuckled softly.

"It's funny how big little boys can dream. You see, it wasn't hard for me to identify myself with Dan because my mother was a widow, and we were poor. I was nine when I applied at the Sentinel for a job selling papers."

"Did you get it?" The boy's eyes shone like live coals in the firelight.

"I got the job, all right, in the middle of March at St. Theresa's corner. It was a busy place with traffic coming from both directions. I remember my thrill at feeling the money changer ridging my stomach and my left arm aching from the weight of the papers that smelled of fresh ink."

"At the end of three hours, my hand and feet were cold, but my heart was on fire. From the bottom rung of the ladder of success, I, like Dan, would climb high. With the pennies I'd save, I'd make investments and some day we'd have a big house with a furnace and a toilet inside and I'd drive Mother around in a shiny new sedan."

"Then you got promoted?" The eagerness in the boy's voice carried over the crackle of the fire.

A rueful smile upped the corners of Frank's mouth.

"I was so busy making plans for the future I didn't see the supervisor watching from a nearby car or hearing th horns honking for papers. That evening I was fired for daydreaming."

Chisox Climb Within Half Game of Lead

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Don Buford is growing into his White Sox almost as fast as the patched-up Chicagoans are growing on the American League.

Buford, a pre-season Rookie-of-the-Year candidate who fizzled during the early going, continued his recent surge Monday night, driving in four runs with a homer, triple and single as the streaking Sox shelled the Los Angeles Angels 9-0 and climbed to within one-half game of the league lead.

Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer and Don Wert's tie-breaking single carried Detroit to a 7-5 victory over Boston in the only other AL game scheduled.

Cincinnati stunned Philadelphia 6-2; the Chicago Cubs overtook San Francisco 6-4 and Houston downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 in National League games.

The White Sox' victory was their fifth straight and ninth in the last 11 games. They trail first place Baltimore by four percentage points.

Buford, a 5-foot-3, 175-pound infielder up from Indianapolis, has hit at a .375 clip during the current Chicago spurt, raising his batting average 23 points to .263. The 27-year-old speedster, under the 200 mark until early in June, has hit safely in 10 of his last 11 games, with two homers, a triple and four doubles.

His three hits Monday supported rookie right-hander Fred Talbot, who evened his record at 3-3 and lowered his earned run average to a sparkling 2.16. Talbot scattered nine hits en route to his second shutout.

Bill Skowron, recently acquired from Washington, and Pete Ward each chipped in with two hits and Tom McCraw drove in three runs as Chicago halted the Angels' six-game winning string.

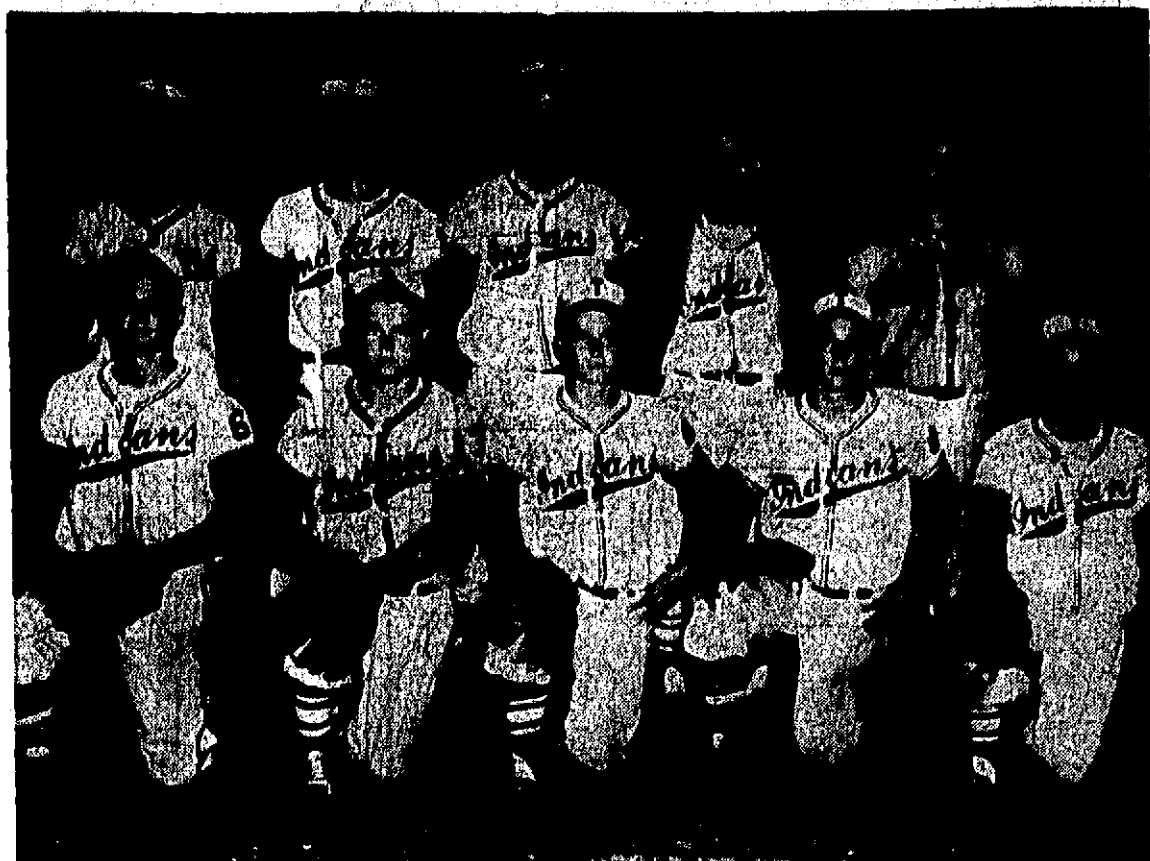

The White Sox now have won 55 and lost 24 against eight AL clubs for a .696 percentage, but have lost 10 of 10 to the New York Yankees, who they head by one game in the standings.

McAuliffe's 17th home run, in the eighth inning, pulled Detroit even at 5-5 before Wert doubled home Bill Freehan, who had singled, with the deciding run.

Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky was ejected for disputing the call on a two-run homer by the Tigers' George Thomas in the seventh.

Center fielder Thomas made an unassisted double play in the first inning, grabbing a line drive and running to second to retire baserunner Tony Conigliaro, who had fallen on the base line.

Play Close in Legion Tournament

DISTRICT LEGION PLAY GOT START-ED here last night and the first game was won by Texarkana who downed Gurdon 2-1 in 13 innings. In the second game Bryant defeated Gurdon 11 to 6.

Arkansas in Win Over Denver Bears

DENVER (AP) — Arkansas opened a three-game Pacific Coast League series Monday night by sweeping easily to a 10-7 victory over the Denver Bears.

Until Denver bunched all its runs in the seventh inning, Jeel Gibson held the Bears to two hits and set down 11 on strikes. Alex Johnson and Fred Walters collected four hits each as the Travelers built an 8-0 lead by the seventh. Johnson and Lee Elia both hit home runs.

Then, Arkansas put it out of reach with two runs against Jack Smith in the ninth. Arkansas picked up a full game in the PCL Eastern Division standings as Oklahoma City lost to Indianapolis 7-2. The Travelers are five games in front of the 88ers and 7½ ahead of third-place Denver.

Michigan Girl Leads Matches

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP) — Defending Champion Peaches Bartkovicz of Hamtramck, Mich., leads a field of 32 survivors into the second-round today of the national 16-and-under girls tennis tournament.

Miss Bartkovicz, 15, had little difficulty eliminating Laurel Holgerson of Milwaukee 6-0, 6-0 in the opening round Monday.

Seven other seeded players including Patsy Rippey of Shawnee, Okla., also survived first round action.

California led the parade among the seeded players with five left in the running. The only outsider was third-seeded Becky Vest of Jackson, Miss.

Reds Establish Themselves as Contenders

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Since Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson made his poignant "man upstairs" statement at the All-Star Game two weeks ago, the Reds have established themselves as legitimate contenders by trimming four games off their deficit and moving to within 2½ games of the front-runners.

The Reds, who won the 1961 pennant scramble, tightened up this year's race again Monday by knocking off the first-place Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 for their seventh victory in the last nine games while the second-place San Francisco Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

The Reds have been on the move, taking advantage of slumps by the Phillies and Giants, ever since Hutchinson spiked a rumor that he was resigning. The tall, stoop-shouldered manager, battling cancer, said at the time:

"I'll quit only if they fire me or if the man upstairs tells me."

The Reds' latest victory handed the Phillies their third loss in four games and ninth in the last 12. The Phillies, however, remained three percentage points ahead of the Giants, who now have lost six of their last eight.

Only one other game was scheduled in the National League. In that, the Houston Colts whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1, dropping the defending world champions below the .500 mark again.

The American League race also grew tighter as the second-place Chicago White Sox walloped the Los Angeles Angels 9-0 and crept to within one-half game of first-place Baltimore. In the only other AL game scheduled, Detroit defeated Boston 7-5.

The Phillies led 2-0 when Cincinnati began to battle back. Timmy Harper's two-run homer in the fifth off Dennis Bennett tied, then the Reds broke through in the sixth for the clinching runs on a walk to Don Pavletich, Leo Cardenas' double and a triple by Steve Roros.

Pavletich wrapped it up with a two-run eighth inning homer. Joe Nuxhall started for Cincinnati and paved the way for both Philadelphia runs walks by issuing walks to Cookie Rojas. Rojas scored in the first on a sacrifice fly by Tony Taylor following a wild pickoff attempt by Nuxhall and came around in the fifth on singles by Johnny Callison and Taylor.

Despite a strong performance, Nuxhall wasn't around at the end because of strong words to Umpire Mel Steiner on a pitch to Bobby Wine in the eighth inning. Billy McCool came on after Nuxhall was ejected and preserved his eighth victory against four losses.

The Giants scored three runs in the fifth inning on consecutive homers by Orlando Cepeda and Del Crandall and went into ninth holding a 4-2 edge over the Cubs.

When Doug Clemens reached base on Hall Lanier's error and Billy Williams beat out an infield hit, Bob Shaw replaced Bob Bolin on the mound—and was immediately tagged for a three-run homer by Ron Santo that won it for the Cubs.

The Colts scored all their runs in the fourth inning on a triple by Joe Gaines, singles by Mike White and Bob Lillis, a walk and Jerry Grote's bases-clearing double. The Dodgers only run came in the seventh on singles by Tommy Davis and Wally Moon and a sacrifice fly by Nate Oliver.

The Dodgers also lost the services of catcher John Roseboro, their No. 1 hitter with a .310 average. Roseboro suffered a severe laceration on the middle finger of his right hand when he was struck by a foul in the fifth inning. Fifteen stitches were taken and X-rays were negative.

Ten Youngsters Swim Channel

DOVER, England (AP)—Ten schoolboys swam the English Channel in relay in 11 hours, 27 minutes today, clipping more than three hours off the previous best relay time.

The boys, from Denstone College in the English midlands, range in age from 15 to 19. The previous relay time of 14 hours, 57 minutes was set by a team from Folkestone 10 years ago.

The team swam from France to England. The fastest Channel swim is the 10 hours, 23 minutes set by Danish-born Helge Jensen on an England-France crossing in 1960.
